

Member organizations

Date : 6 November 2015

BICE network members are national and international organizations, religious congregations and universities committed to the global defense of children's rights and child protection. BICE's network in 2014 includes almost 70 organizations on four continents. To discover each organization, click on its name.

Learn more about:

- The BICE network, its goals and actions
- Membership in the network